CALIFORNIA GRAPES

In Absence of Cables From Row Receives First Consignment and Finds Demand for Them Good.

Market row presented a busy appearance all day Saturday. From early morn until noon new consignments of produce were arriving, and the booths were fairly stocked. Customers were plentiful and the sales were ordinarily large. A number of specialties arrived NEW YORK, July 27—Metal markets were dull and largely nominal, as usual, in the absence of cables. Tin was unchanged at $40.00@40.50.

large. A number of specialties arrived along with the regular supply. Sweet California grapes, the first of the season, sold for 25 cents a pound, or $1 a basket. Strawberries have now become a luxury, only a few merchants handling them, and charging a proportionately high price. The price asked was 20 cents per box.

The supply of raspberries was most abundant Saturday, and owing to the cooler conditions which have prevailed for the past three days, the berries are not overripe. The price showed a slight drop. Four small boxes were offered for 25 cents, while two of the large ones sold at the same figure. Red and black currants were also present on the row, but the supply was rather limited. The price varied from 10 to 15 cents a box.

Though there was a big supply of potatoes along the row, the price still remains the same, being 3 1-3 cents a

Utah corn took a drop in price Saturday, owing more perhaps to the fact that it is now supplied to all the deal-ers rather than because of a plentiful supply. Three ears of corn can now be purchased for 10 cents.

Tomatoes changed their price slightly Saturday, owing to the hig supply. They are now selling at 10 and 12 cents a pound, although a few dealers still hold the choice ones for 15 cents a pound.

HAY FEVER

So many patients have applied to Drs. Shores and Shores for treatment lately who have been suffering from Hay Fever and dld not know what their trouble was, that Drs. Shores have decided to explain the symptoms. effects and treatment of Hay Pever. that all may tell it at a glance

In the beginning of an attack of Hay Fever the patient experiences a sense of uneasiness about the nasal passages, with a slight disposition to sneeze. Gradually these symptoms increase, and often there is an intense itching of the nasal passage, with a profuse watery discharge, which necesitates the constant use of a handkerchief. In aggravated cases the discharge drips continually from the nose. later the mufcous membrane becomes so congested that the secretions present a grayish color. The inflamed mucous membrane naturally causes more or less stenosis, or narrowing or closing of the nasal passages, which adds greatly to the discomfort of the sufferer, often times the nasal passages are entirely closed up.

If the patient lies on the side, the nasal passage which is uppermost becomes open, while the fluid collects in the parts below; or if the patient lies on the back and the flow passes to rear portion, causing a complete stop. page of the nasal passages. The fluids which escape from the nose are often frritating, and very frequently give rise to irritation around the nose and lip and sometimes even result in eczethe lips red and stehing. If the discase is allowed to run, an atrack of asthma often sets in. The asthmatic symptoms are usually confined to the night time, aithough the waking nours are often characterized by shortness of breathing, which the patient describes as wheezing.

Hay fever is a treacherous disease and yields quickly to the new treatment. Every sufferer from this notificous and deceptive disease should consult Drs. Shores & Shores at once,
